Summit Meeting Ruled Out

America Wants U.N. to Be Site Of Discussions

Khrushchev's Call Not Possible For Practical Purposes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today ruled out for all practical purposes any thought of an immediate summit meeting as proposed by the Russians.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said a draft reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's call for such a meeting Tuesday has been sent to this country's allies.

Hagerty said, however, he did not expect an answer could be dispatched today, thus ruling out any talks by the deadline proposed by Khrushchev.

Conjunction with U.N.

This country has taken the position that any immediate talks between the West and the Russians should be in conjunction with the United Nations.

This would not necessarily rule out a meeting by heads of government. Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain in fact told Commons today that Britain and its allies are urgently considering "the best means by which to arrange for a meeting which heads of government could attend."

Hagerty told his news conference that consultations are going on among the Western Allies.

He said a draft reply to Khrushchev — meaning an answer on which U.S. allies are invited to comment before it is sent — is now in the hands of the other major Western Powers.

Through Ambassadors

The U.S. draft, Hagerty said, was sent to the other nations Sunday night through their ambassadors.

And he said that until the consultations among the Western nations and he will have nothing further to say about the possibility of a summit conference.

Hagerty said that after the consultations are completed President Eisenhower will make a direct reply to Khrushchev.

President Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic and military advisers in an extraordinary Sunday afternoon session to consider what the United States should do about Khrushchev's move.

The Soviet Premier had set notes to the leaders of the United States, Britain, France and India calling for a summit conference at Geneva Tuesday or any other time. He expressed willingness if necessary to meet in Washington. He accused this country and Britain of committing aggression by sending troops into Lebanon and Jordan and declared they had gravely endangered the peace.

Japan Proposes Mid-East Plan To U.N. Council

Russia Is Expected To Veto Suggestion In Special Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Japan counted on Western support today as she went to the U.N. Security Council with a plan to expand operations of the U.N. observer group in Lebanon so U.S. Marines could be withdrawn.

Some diplomats believed the Soviet Union, intent on getting a special session of the General Assembly in which to attack the West, would veto Japan's proposal.

The council scheduled a mid-afternoon session but there was no indication when a vote would come on the Japanese resolution. If it failed, the Council then could take up U.S. and Soviet resolutions calling for an emergency assembly session on the Middle East Crisis.

The Japanese resolution would ask the U.N. observer group in Lebanon to "develop its activities" aimed at insuring against illegal infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

It also would have the Council ask U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to arrange such additional measures as he may consider necessary to prevent aid from reaching the rebels and to "insure the territorial integrity and political independence of Lebanon, so as to make possible the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, leaving New York for London late Sunday, told newsmen Britain would vote for the Japanese resolution. A source close to the Japanese delegation said the United States would too.

The United States in pressing its own resolution to authorize a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon had promised to withdraw its Marines when the U.N. troops took over. The Soviets vetoed the American proposal Friday, and the Council majority voted down a Soviet demand for immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Girl, 5, Electrocuted In Basement of Home

LISBON — A 5-year-old Ravena area girl was electrocuted Saturday afternoon while visiting at a West Point district home when she came in contact with a make shift cellar sump pump.

Delores Jean Lanham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lanham of Atwood Center, was pronounced dead of electric shock on arrival at East Liverpool City Hospital at 3 p.m.

Radar-Controlled Traffic Lights Being Installed

Electricians hope to have two radar-controlled traffic lights—the first in Salem—in operation by the latter part of this week on S. Lundy Ave. where the avenue intersects with E. State and E. Pershing Sts.

Harry Vincent, service director, said that under the new traffic control system being installed, traffic lights at the two intersections will remain green to east and west traffic until the lights are changed by north or pedestrian.

Northbound traffic on Lundy, which is a one-way street, will automatically change the lights when passing under two radar controlled detectors just south of the two intersections.

Pedestrians at the two crossings will be able to manipulate the lights by means of push-button control boxes to be installed on poles at each street corner, Vincent said.

He said the radar lights will be synchronized with traffic lights at the intersections of S. Broadway Ave. with State and Pershing.

Extremists Given Second Wind by Iraqi Revolt

Jordan's King Is In Deep Trouble Despite U.S., British Assistance

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Young King Hussein is obviously in deep trouble despite the crash program of military and economic aid from the United States and Britain.

Developments in Iraq have hit Jordan hard.

Already the eastern part of the country has lost much of its communication with the Palestinian side of the Jordan River, a hotbed of support for U.A.R. President Nasser. There is a good chance that much blood will be spilled here before long.

There are several reasons why violence did not explode immediately in the wake of the revolt in Iraq. Opposition leaders are still under arrest, Hussein apparently had been warned of a new plot to dethrone him in time to clean out dissident officers. And Jordan still is under a rigid royal dictatorship under a martial law.

But most important, the events in Iraq came with such suddenness that they stunned Jordan's population. Many, even among ordinary violent, unthinking extremists, at first saw the developments in Iraq and Lebanon as a prelude to World War III and were awed by the possibilities. When they get their second wind there will be violence.

Primarily the violence will be sparked by strong anti-British sentiment, which looks on the 2,000 British troops now here as a mobile palace guard around the King. Sharp economic dislocations in the wake of the Iraqi revolt likely will raise the revolutionary temper.

Jordan depended entirely upon ter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lanham of Atwood Center, was pronounced dead of electric shock on arrival at East Liverpool City Hospital at 3 p.m.

The child had been playing with other youngsters in the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gibson of the Pine Ridge Rd. about one and a half miles east of Route 30 southeast of West Point, Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgis said.

She apparently touched the pump and the equipment grounded through her body, the coroner said.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were not at home Saturday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Lanham and their four youngsters came for a visit, Sheriff Russell VanFossan said. Gibson and Mrs. Lanham are brother and sister.

The sheriff said the makeshift pump apparently had not been in use, but may have been plugged in by one of the children. The 110 volt wiring leading to the pump were exposed in places, he said.

The victim was born at Ravena March 11, 1953. Besides her parents she is survived by a brother, Hayward, two sisters, Brenda and Donna. The body was removed to the Whitescarver Funeral Home at Buckhannon W. Va. where services will be held.

2 Others Also Are Wounded By Steelworker

Sabatino Objects to Pool Next Door, Kills Doctor's Wife, Guest

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A steelworker who objected to a swimming pool next door was held by police today. They said he admitted killing his neighbor's wife and a guest, and wounding two other guests attending a birthday party at the pool.

The steelworker is Joseph Sabatino, 67, who lives in a new residential section on the southwest edge of this city.

Police Capt. Stephen Birch said Sabatino had been complaining about a swimming pool and an eight-foot fence completed a few weeks ago by Dr. H. Jack Little, an osteopath.

Sunday 16 friends were invited to the Little home to celebrate the doctor's 33rd birthday. Most of them were around the swimming pool.

There was another argument, followed by a scuffle on the Sabatino side of the property line, said Capt. Birch, after which Sabatino went into his home and got a revolver holding five shots. He emptied it into four people, said the officer.

The doctor was not hit, but his wife, Pauline, 34, was struck by two bullets and killed. Another bullet took the life of Roland Page, 30, an automotive parts salesman. Charles Brown, 31, of suburban Boardman, was hit in the chest. His wife, Melba, 28, was hit in the left leg.

Capt. Birch said when he arrived on the scene, he found the gun in the yard and Sabatino in his home. The steelworker admitted the shootings and declared "they made me nervous and I didn't know what I was doing," said the officer.

Sabatino's objections to the pool included a claim that water was seeping through the banked edges of the pool and was ruining his yard. He also objected to noise from the swimmers.

Girl, 13, Dies In Youngstown Blaze

YOUNGSTOWN — Thirteen-year-old Gloria Curry died Sunday morning in a fire which swept her family's home at 440 St. Louis Avenue.

She was trapped in an attic room over the front porch. Her 18-year-old brother, Vanica, and John Shaw, 25, a neighbor, attempted to reach her window by a ladder, but were driven back by smoke, flames and heat.

Gloria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Curry and another brother, James, escaped.

Fire Battalion Chief Thomas Deskin said the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Parties Revising Campaign Issues

Leaders Eye Public's Reaction to Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ominous shadow of the Middle East crisis threatened today to blot out other issues and force some major revisions in congressional campaign strategy.

Campaign leaders were watching public reaction to President Eisenhower's decision to send troops into Lebanon. There was no certainty in either camp about the immediate or long-range political effect.

But one thing stood out in their response from grass-root canvasses: if American troops are still in Lebanon on election day, Middle East developments are likely to have more effect on voting results than any other single issue.

While GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn has contended Eisenhower's troop decision has "won wide acclaim," a Republican campaign strategist who didn't want his name used said his survey showed very mixed reaction.

He said that while many voters

Players to Hold Tryouts This Week

The newly-organized Community Players, a unit program of the Salem YWCA, will begin tryouts tonight for their first play which has been scheduled for presentation in September.

Tryouts, to be held each night this week, start at 7 p.m. in the YWCA Annex on N. Lincoln Ave.

Howard Dodge, the director of the play, will be in charge of cast selection, along with assistant directors William Weir, Betty Ward and Fred Filler.

Mr. Dodge is interested in selecting a cast of 18 men and women for this three-act modern comedy. Crews and committees will be needed for the following: Set and set construction, stage lighting, makeup, costumes, properties, publicity, box office and ticket committee.

All persons interested in any phase of little theater work are urged to attend meetings this week.

U.S. Troops In Lebanon Have 'Atom Capability'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States brought the menacing words "atomic capability" into the Middle Eastern crisis today.

A U.S. spokesman said all ground, air and sea combat units have atomic capability. He specifically avoided saying whether the 6,300 Marines here have atomic warheads in Lebanon.

U.S. Marines joined Lebanese army patrols which could bring them in contact with rebels.

Weighted Results
These developments came as President Nasser of the Syrian-Egyptian United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Khrushchev weighed results of their latest diplomatic moves.

Nasser, it was reported by Cairo news agencies, met with the ruling Sheikh of Kuwait in Damascus Sunday. Kuwait, a British protectorate, is on the Persian Gulf close to Iraq, and supplies half of Britain's oil. It is the leading oil producer in the Middle East.

Khrushchev proposed over the weekend a five-power summit conference to talk over the Middle East crisis.

Too Steps
The United States also took steps to inform Lebanese of the reasons for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said a million leaflets in Arabic were dropped from one end of Lebanon to the other, and assured the Lebanese the Americans would leave as soon as the United Nations has taken measures assuring the independence of Lebanon.

A Navy spokesman disclosed at a U.S. Embassy briefing that U.S.

Committee Goes Behind Closed Doors

Senate Investigators Call More Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new set of House investigators goes behind closed doors today to look into new allegations of White House pressure tactics reportedly involving Sherman Adams, Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) of the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee said the witnesses will testify in secret, at least at first. However, open hearings are expected to follow.

S. Korea's First Army Cuts Leaves, Furloughs

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea's First Army today ordered its subordinate commands to suspend all leaves and furloughs and to restrict passes for all men and officers guarding the 155-mile truce line.

A headquarters spokesman said the order, effective immediately, was issued in view of the current crisis in the Middle East.

The First Army has 650,000 men facing the Communist North Koreans.

Among the first witnesses will be Roswell M. Austin, retired member of the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals, which last year cut to $500 a $49,784 wartime penalty against a New England textile firm for late delivery of fabric for Army uniforms.

Austin says he heard so much talk of White House interest in the case "it made me boil."

The White House denies that Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aide, pulled any strings in behalf of the firm—the now defunct Rayline Worsteds Inc., of Manchester, N. H. The White House said Adams, a former New Hampshire governor, merely relayed queries and replies as a matter of routine.

Leo Wolff, a former Rayline president, also denied that Adams exerted any influence. However, Wolff acknowledged that he and an employee who knew Adams wrote the White House about the case.

Over the weekend, the Pentagon indicated the subcommittee will be told that the penalty reduction against Rayline resulted from peacetime after-thoughts rather than intervention by Adams.

VFW Closes Convention With Colorful Parade

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio American Legionnaires have left Columbus with something to remember and given Cleveland something to look forward to.

Columbus, of course, was the site of the 40th annual state convention this year. It opened Wednesday and closed Sunday with a long and colorful parade that moved across the downtown district for more than two hours.

More than 60,000 persons watched it.

One of the last things the legionnaires did before hurrying off to assemble for the final parade was to choose Cleveland as next year's convention site.

Searchers Recover Counselor's Body

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Searchers have recovered the body of 22-year-old Judith E. Koonce of Cleveland, a camp counselor who drowned while trying to rescue one of her campers.

Her body was found shortly before noon Sunday, ending a 73-hour search by 30 groups of volunteers. The spot is about 250 feet from where she entered the Little Miami River Thursday.

Witnesses said she climbed down a cliff to a point about 35 feet above the water in Clifton Gorge, then jumped. She was seen once in the water, then disappeared.

Miss Koonce had gone to the rescue of Kyrleen Ruble of Lakeview (Logan County) after the 11-year-old girl tumbled over the rim of the gorge and fell 90 feet into the water. The little girl's body was found several hours later, about 1,500 feet downstream.

The accident happened while Miss Koonce was leading a group of about 40 girls from a Clifton 4-H camp along the rim of the gorge.

Outside Exit From Cellar Is Convenient

When planning to build or remodel a home, it will pay you to consider the advantages of providing a separate entrance to the basement from the outdoors, says the Better Basement Institute. It says that the average family often can recover the cost of an outside basement entrance through savings in wear and tear on main floor living areas.

An outside entrance enables you to go to and from your recreation room, storage and hobby areas directly from the yard. It costs little when a home is being constructed, because the walls which enclosed the steps from the basement to the grade are built right into the foundation. The steps can be made of concrete or can be formed by means of prefabricated steel stringers which are nailed to the stairwells and into which wood treads are placed. The steps are permanently protected against the weather by means of a double-lea, Bilco hatchway which is both watertight and burglar-proof.

When your home has a fully-protected basement entrance, you will find that the value of the basement area has been doubled at least. Storage is simplified, because you can carry a wide variety of bulky items directly to the basement from the outdoors without going through the main part of the house. When you use the basement for recreation, the youngsters can enter and leave the playground downstairs without disturbing adults on the first floor.

If you have a basement laundry, an outside entrance saves hundreds of steps every washday by providing a direct path from the washing machine to the drying yard.

Superior WALLPAPER AND PAINT CO. 483 East Pershing Phone ED. 7-3800

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: We've moved into a new house. Everything is satisfactory except the ceramic tile in the bathroom. The tile has a dull appearance and never seems to get really clean, no matter how much it is scrubbed. Can you tell us how to get the dull look from the tile?

ANSWER: The small ceramic tiles used on a bathroom floor—known as mosaics—are attached to paper, which is pulled off after the tiles have been laid. The tiles then must be cleaned immediately to remove all traces of the adhesive. Since you have a new home, it is possible the installer neglected to clean the tiles properly. Or some of the mortar used between the joints may still be clinging to the tile surfaces. Some hardware stores sell a special solvent or cleanser for ceramic tiles. If you are unable to get it, buy some powdered pumice, mix it with water and, using a clean cloth, rub down the tiles.

QUESTION: I am now engaged in a job which calls for driving a considerable number of brass screws into hard maple. Quite a few of the screw heads break off, even though I have been drilling small pilot holes for the screws. How can I prevent the heads from breaking?

ANSWER: The pilot holes you have been drilling probably are too small for this type of project. Try making them just a fraction of an inch smaller in diameter than the screws. Or you can try this old trick: Drive a steel screw into a pilot hole, then remove it and replace it with one of the brass screws. Here again, use a steel screw a fraction of an inch smaller in diameter than the brass screw.

Onto Chicago!

Hats are off again to Salem's state and national championship American Legion Quaker City Band!

The nattily-attired, capable Salem musicians played and marched their way to another Ohio Legion title — their fifth — at Columbus Sunday.

Three other crack bands challenged the local aggregation's appearance but the Salem outfit took first in the concert division, first in the parade and first in the majorette competition to earn a 96.85 rating and the Ohio championship.

Four previously-won titles have pretty well crowded the band's lead-on pennant but there's enough room for the musicians to proudly add the numerals '58.

As in previous victories, weeks of tiring rehearsals and drills preceded the actual competition but, as in athletics, a true champion knows the value of rigorous training.

Now it's "On to Chicago" for the Salem band to defend its national championship, which it won a year ago at Atlantic City. The greatest obstacle in the path to Chicago Aug. 29 is one of finances. Salem citizens donated $750 in a July Fourth benefit program at Reilly Stadium but $4,500 expense money for transportation and housing still is needed.

It is not known whether the Ohio

Department of the Legion may be in a position to offer financial assistance but even with some help from the state, the band must rely mainly on local support.

The American Legion Quaker City Bandsmen are our city's musical ambassadors of good will, carrying the name of Salem far and wide. We're proud of them.

In the Good Old-Fashioned Way

The explosion of the year in the chaos of Teamster Union affairs could be the allegation by one of the three monitors appointed last January to watch the scandal-ridden organization that another member of the trio tried to line him up with a $100,000 bribe.

The explosive potentialities lie in the fact the member of the trio who is said to have offered the bribe was the representative of the Teamsters — L.N.D. Wells.

To understand the enormity of the accusation, it is necessary to go back to the settlement last January when James R. Hoffa was allowed to take office as the $50,000 a year president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, succeeding the deposed Dave Beck, on one curious condition:

Every move he made, ruled Judge F. Dickinson Letts of the Federal Court in New York which had been hearing the case that developed over the Hoffa group's right to take over the union after it had been challenged by 13 dissident members of the union, would be watched by a board of three men. The board would report to Judge Letts every six months.

If ever there had been created a set of circumstances in which the good old-fashioned way of influencing people by bribery was bound to be dynamite, this was it.

If it were to be proved to the satisfaction of Judge Letts that the Teamster representative he had approved held his court and his court's ruling in such contempt that he tried to bribe another member of the three-man board to go along with him in his views, the Hoffa regime would have sacrificed its claim on public tolerance.

This would not mean that Mr. Hoffa, himself, would be at deposed, or this his union would be handicapped. It would mean that his union's representatives on a monitor board had been unable and unwilling to rise above the level of the low practices that had put its new leadership under monitorship and therefore nothing better could be expected.

The Teamsters might as well have stuck with Dave Beck.

Credit Where Credit Is Due

It seems to have become the accepted practice in reporting the performance of rockets to list the manufacturers whose products went into the performance, if it was successful. Otherwise, the less said the better.

But the idea of giving credit where credit is due does real credit to the public relations geniuses who put it over. Future reports should go into even more careful detail.

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — The Army blasted a mighty Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile 1,500 miles across the Atlantic today and recovered the nose cone after a successful re-entry into space.

The Jupiter is manufactured by Whooosh Corp. and the nose cone it carried aloft is being produced in this country by BeakProducts Inc.

All valves and fittings on the Jupiter are by courtesy of the Trickle Co. Fuel was furnished by Boom Industries, and electronic gear was by Consolidated Crackle of Ultra Range, N.D.

Instruments were by General Instrumentation, and packings and waddings were by Stopp-Leek Corp. Pushbuttons were by Expanded Futures Industries, and tail fins were by Incorporated Mermaids.

High-gloss finish was by Slickum Bros., gantry was furnished by Elmer Himself and wherewithal was by courtesy of Joe Smoe of Kokomo and Associates.

After all, if it takes three minutes of valuable TV time to list everybody, right down to the fellow who did Dixie Dimple's hair, old Joe Smoe of Kokomo and Associates should get a credit listing for the conquest of outer space.

Once Over

The Miss Universe Season is here again. Ultimate in vanity is attained when any chick thinks she is the most beautiful girl on earth. Missing from it is the doll who concedes, "Oh, there must be lots of other girls as attractive as I am." She can't possibly get to the post.

The global glamour World Series takes place in California shortly. The question is whether it helps to cement international good will or to bust it up.

This is a sensitive world and no nation is disposed to take lightly a decision placing its foremost beauty "out of the money."

HOW WILL ISTANBUL feel if Miss Greece defeats Miss Turkey or vice versa? Fancy a situation in which Miss Israel takes a photo finish over Miss Egypt?

Would there not be a grave crisis, with charges of conspiracy, if Russia sent a gal who, in a tight race with Miss America, broke down in the stretch?

There is trouble enough in the world today without a cold war over women — or among them. Hell hath no fury like a doll labelled "Showed no form, was outdistanced at all times and finished far back in field."

THIS IS STRANGE in view of fact few things are less permanent than a Miss America or Miss Universe victory. "She was last year's Miss America" means nothing. "I think she was runner-up Miss Universe a season or two back" can bring a bored "Izzat so?"

Let's not stir up the girls too much. It can add to global frowns, grimaces and nasty remarks. In these jumpy times some ruler anywhere may get a cable and proclaim, "Our entry lost the Miss Universe contest to the imperialist bloc. Take an ultimatum!"

IN A CONTEST taking in so much territory in a world of threats, resolutions, wars and rumors of war the wrong things count in feminine assets. Figure, complexion, eyes, hair, lips, ankles, calves and torso are not all a girl needs in a time of atomic bombs, border wars and street riots.

In any truly run Miss Universe contest let there be consideration given to poise, stability, patience, behavior under fire, combat service, courage, biceps, experience with lethal weapons and reasonable experience in parachute jumps.

WOULD YOU SAY Mr. Goldfine was gift-"rapped?"

Mike Wallace's interviews are ending for the season although he is under contract until next May. This is one case where the Rockefeller Fund for the Republic support wasn't a big help. Mike made a sensational hit through informal, no-holds-barred interviews with controversial and colorful characters. A switch to more important folks who must be handled with kid gloves and given a chance for deletions took the zip out of the program. Mickey Cohen is of no importance compared to the recent Wallace targets, but a Wallace-Cohen quiz was sure to be a more exciting shindig.

Adlai Stevenson is in Russia and seems to be saying, "I can quip any man in the house."

"Panama Asks Aid of Dr. Eisenhower"—headline. It wants a bigger "cut?"

Fidel Castro is showing himself only in "snatches."

Remember away back when "on the rocks" was a reference to busines or boating and never to drinking situations?

The Hose Isn't Cooperating

Coup In Iraq No Surprise

By JAY G. HAYDEN

While the swiftly successful coup d'etat in Iraq obviously caught the United States and other Western powers wholly without warning, it is grossly inaccurate to call this development a "surprise."

Beginning before the Suez crisis in 1956, and with greatly increased intensity since the formation of this year of the United Arab Republic, experts on the Middle East have been prophesying, virtually without exception, that nothing short of armed force could check the sweep toward Arab nationalism.

It has been predicted with the same unanimity that all remaining Arab kings, despite their enormous oil wealth, will go the way of Farouk of Egypt. But the order of elimination notably slipped.

Of all the Arab kings, Faisal of Iraq, guided by his reputedly astute prime minister, Nuri Said, and well-armed with both U.S. and British weapons, was considered strongest.

Rated weakest was Hussein of Jordan and after him America's best friend, Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

On excuse of ill health, Ibn Saud recently turned over direction of the government largely to his brother, Crown Prince Faisal, who by no means is rated so trustworthy an American ally.

ON ITS FACE the Iraqi upheaval would appear to be a direct challenge to both the Baghdad Mutual Assistance Pact, comprising Great Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan, and the American Eisenhower Doctrine.

The vital catch as to both of these, however, is that they were confined to resistance of "Communist aggression" coming from outside the nation concerned.

Up to this writing there is no official accusation that the Iraqi revolution is of Communist inspiration and, much less so, that any Communist country participated directly in the overthrow of the government. Nor is it alleged, as it was in Lebanon, that the United Arab Republic, consisting of Egypt and Syria, sent in armed forces to aid the rebels.

Also, conquest by the rebels was so swift and complete that by the time the first news reached foreign capitals there was no former government left to go to the aid of.

The assumption of U.S. military men is that no government could have been overthrown so easily unless its own army joined the revolt.

In the latter connection it is notable that the Iraq forces were almost wholly armed at British or American expense.

Due to their early acquisition of Iraqi oil concessions, the British for many years regarded the country as a virtual protectorate. And since 1954 the U.S. has earmarked about 46 million dollars in military aid for Iraq, most of which has been delivered.

American military shipments consisted chiefly of tanks, trucks, small arms, ammunition, Jeeps and electronic equipment.

PREVIOUSLY, Great Britain not only provided military materiel but sent instructors to train the Iraqi army.

The most serious danger to the West, arising from the rebellion in Iraq, is its effect on oil supply and revenue distribution.

Iraq is the fourth largest oil producer in the Middle East and the seventh largest in the world. More productive Middle Eastern countries, in order of oil output, are the shiekdom of Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

Foreign ownership in Iraq petroleum is divided equally among four companies — British Petroleum, Royal Dutch Shell, Compagnie Francaise des Petroles and the Near East Development Co.

The last named of these is owned jointly by Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony Mobil Oil Co.

The fear is that just as Egypt typified its new ultranationalism by seizing the Suez Canal, Iraq, under Egyptian tutelage, will hasten to seize all oil properties within its boundaries.

A possible deterrent to that step might be the experience of Iran, which seized its oil facilities only to discover that it had no means of getting its oil to market. In the end Iran came, hat in hand, to ask for restoration of Western help.

Impact of War

By JAMES MARLOW

U.S. Would Act Fast to Stabilize Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—If a shooting showdown should flare in the Middle East, the government can be expected to act quickly to combat the shortages and inflation which mark even brush fire wars.

Some of the tools to do this job are already at hand. Others probably would be asked quickly from Congress. And Congress could be expected to respond just as quickly, although there is no indication now such action will be needed.

Even a limited war in the Arab world could light a rocket under defense spending, put a bind on supplies of some strategic materials and open the way for new hikes in living costs.

Oil probably would stop flowing from Middle East wells to the big Western European markets. This might require another oil lift from the Western Hemisphere to Europe — the kind of operation carried on while the Suez Canal was blocked early last year.

Already on the books are regulations for the allocation of strategic materials. These could and presumably would be imposed very quickly to prevent waste of vital stocks.

Also available is another regulation to curb hoarding by controlling industry inventories of raw materials.

There is no provision in present law for controlling wages and prices. And credit can be curbed only indirectly through the Federal Reserve Board's power to tighten or loosen the money supply.

The Eisenhower administration is wary about imposing mandatory restraints on the economy. However, it is dedicated to fighting inflation.

To cope with the inflationary pressures of even a small war, it certainly would give quick consideration to asking Congress for broad economic controls.

After the outbreak of the Korean War, living costs jumped more than 7 per cent in the eight months before controls went into effect. The Truman administration called at first for voluntary restraint, but to little avail.

Republicans were sharply critical of the Democrats at the time for not putting on the brakes sooner. It is a good bet that the present Republican administration with the advantage of hindsight, would move faster if a similar situation arose.

The landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon already is having a different kind of effect on the home front.

The impact so far has been political rather than economic. Senate Republican Leader William Knowland of California has noted that Middle East storm clouds have affected the congressional weather vane. He foresees restoration of some House-voted cuts in foreign aid.

Some other observers predict that trouble overseas will help the Eisenhower administration get more of what it wants in the way of reciprocal trade and defense reorganization legislation.

Electronic Nose Counter

"FOSDIC" may not be exactly fearless, but he's certainly going to be a big help in 1960 when census-taking time comes along.

FOSDIC is a new electronic wonder-working machine which will do the job of hundreds of punchcard machine operators and cut from months to weeks the time required to get information gathered in the 1960 census ready for analysis by computing machines.

Like most advanced electronic gadgets, FOSDIC's name is made up of the initials of words which describe its function. The initials mean "film optical sensing device for input to computers."

The machine was invented by scientists at the National Bureau of Standards and perfected by engineers at Census Bureau headquarters in Suitland, Md.

A final pilot model of FOSDIC—the third—is now being assembled, and after it is completed the first of four production models will be built.

THESE FOUR will do a job that 2,000 or more punch-card operators did in the 1950 census.

Millions of dollars will be saved, census officials believe. And, more important, complete details on the population of the country will be available months earlier than ever before.

The secret of FOSDIC lies in the use of three marvels of modern science: microfilm, television-type cathode ray tubes and magnetic recording tape.

When census takers go out in the field in early April of 1960, they will carry special forms 14x 16 inches in size. Each form will have on it about 200 places where information may be entered by means of a checkmark. Details concerning about 15 persons will appear on each sheet.

The sheets will be photographed on 16-millimeter film, bringing each 14x16 sheet down to the size of a fingernail. About 1,200 sheets can be photographed on a roll of microfilm which will fit in a box four inches square and only one inch thick.

When FOSDIC is ready to go to work, a reel of microfilm will be placed in the machine and will be run under the eye of the cathode ray tube at an average of one frame per second.

IMPULSES from the cathode ray tube will be translated into electronic "bits" of information and transferred to a magnetic tape running through another part of FOSDIC at a speed of 10 inches a second.

That is all the four FOSDICs will do for their country in the spring and summer of 1960.

Then the computers will take information off the tape prepared by FOSDIC and come up with the answers to the big questions; how many of us are there, what are the details about our sex, our age, our race and other factors?

Though FOSDIC's job is mainly spadework, it is of the utmost importance, census officials stress.

They point out that the law on population censuses requires the bureau to report to the president within eight months the total population of each state. The purpose of his is to give Congress an opportunity to reapportion the seating in the House of Representatives.

"Throughout 17 censuses, we have always met the deadline," James L. McPherson, machine development officer for the Census Bureau, said. "But we've always done it by a hard count of cards, and by the Dec. 1 deadline we have never known anything else but that one basic fact."

"With FOSDIC our objective is to have not only the count by states but also details on the characteristics of the population."

Mideast's Effect on Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Middle East turmoil may bring another test of consumer opinion and all that means to business.

What businessmen would like to know today: Will the new uncertainty chill some of the returning confidence noted of late? Or would any worsening of world tensions lead the American consumer to rush to buy as he did when U. S. troops were sent to Korea?

Consumer spending is one of the hardest things to forecast for those who must plan ahead for their own business or for the nation's economic policies.

The most recent poll taken by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan, covering a period from mid-May into June, shows that while consumer confidence dipped in the early months of this year it had regained its poise of late and was about back where it had been last December.

But the survey was made before the lid blew off the political pot in the Middle East.

Commodity traders have reacted in traditional fashion and bid up prices because world tension can upset world markets and distribution of goods and raw materials.

But for the consumer things are different in mid-1958 than they were at the time of the Korean War. Now we have few if any shortages of materials or finished products. And more people now have at least the durable goods with which they can make do in a crisis.

There was little excuse for the war scare buying that led to runs on stores in the early days of the Korean conflict. Today even the most hysterical would have to hunt hard for any excuse.

What businessmen are more concerned about is any setback now to the growing return of confidence that the Michigan survey teams report.

Each year for years now Americans have had more money left over after paying for the absolute necessities of food, clothing and shelter.

This may be hard to believe for the throngs who find their family budget in a bind. But at the same time there are others who have been deferring spending to save part of their incomes, either because of worry about the recession's probable course or because of a belief that prices may come down.

Will mounting world tension with its threat of fresh inflation change this thinking?

It's in this field — those, who could spend more but haven't been of late — that business will be watching for the consumer reaction to the Middle East fracas.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Mary Prudner

LISBON — Mrs. Mary Prudner of 289 W. Chestnut St. died Saturday evening at Salem City Hospital after an illness of about nine months. She was 75.

Born April 11, 1883, in Germany, a daughter of Bernard and Jennie Spitzer Sorenstein, she came to America about 58 years ago and had lived in this vicinity ever since. She attended the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Prudner is survived by four daughters, Miss Helene Prudner of the home; Mrs. Joan Meserve, Tacoma Park, Md.; Mrs. Betty Ward, Oakland, Calif.; and Mrs. Eloise Caseday, Merced, Calif. Three sons, Harry and William Prudner of Lisbon and Alfred of Indianapolis and seven grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

Politicians

approved the President's firm action in a dangerous situation, others believed American intervention in the internal affairs of any other nation would be likely to boomerang.

A leading Democrat, who thinks Eisenhower should first have appealed to the United Nations and then sent troops if necessary, said he is advising party colleagues to soft-pedal their criticisms and let event speak for themselves.

Fresh in the minds of the Democrats is the use the Republicans made of the Korean War issue in the 1952 presidential election. In speeches, Alcorn still stresses the theme that the Eisenhower administration settled the Korean conflict and can be depended on to chart a course that would avoid war.

Democrats reason that even if U.S. troops avoid fighting — and they hope fervently there is none — the American voter will be mighty restive if the weeks stretch into months without a Middle East settlement.

The Republicans hope, of course that some way can be found to bring about an agreement that will permit the honorable withdrawal of U. S. forces long before election time. They feel that would be a political bonanza. But they have serious doubts it can be done soon.

Troops

forces have come equipped with the necessary weapons to use atomic power.

"All combat units, including ground, air and sea have atomic capability," he said.

"Any further discussion is a matter of security," he added.

He did not say the Marines had brought atomic warheads, but the implication seemed clear. The Marines have landed four 8-inch howitzers which are capable of shooting an atomic shell about 11 miles.

The adding of Marines to Lebanese army patrols was described by U.S. briefing officers as an effort to improve liaison with Lebanese army forces in an effort to halt sniping at aircraft and Marine guards.

At least six military transports have been hit. No injuries have resulted. The flight path into Beirut airport takes planes over rebel territory.

Complete Break

Jordan has made a complete diplomatic break with Nasser's U.A.R. The Foreign Ministry in Amman announced the break at the same time King Hussein's government received a 12½-million-dollar shot in the arm from the United States to aid it over economic hurdles in the present crisis.

Nasser had returned to Cairo after a diplomatic expedition that took him to Yugoslavia, the Soviet Union and Syria.

Some 1,400 more American troops landed in Beirut, bringing the total in Lebanon to about 9,400. The new arrivals brought in the first heavy artillery as well as cooks, supply and maintenance men that indicated the United States might be getting ready for a long stay.

The troops were troubled by minor harassment but there were no casualties. Pro-Nasser rebel snipers took potshots at U.S. Marine guarding strategic spots in Beirut and the Marines fired back. The rebels also aimed small arms fire at planes. A soda bottle filled with gasoline and rigged with a timing device was left with one Marine unit and exploded, but no one was hurt.

"Our biggest problem at the moment is keeping out Lebanese kids who want to sell the troops soft drinks," said an Army spokesman.

Robert Murphy, U.S. deputy undersecretary of state sent by President Eisenhower to help work out a political solution to the Lebanese crisis, called on Paul Meouchi, pro-rebel patriarch of the Maronite Christian Church.

Murphy refused to indicate what was discussed, but the call indicated he was making contact with pro-Western President Camille Chamoun's opposition. Rebel leaders had made no move to contact U.S. officials on the ground that their country's crisis is purely an internal matter.

Touched Off Break

Nasser's recognition of the new regime in Iraq touched off the final break with Jordan, King Hussein, the junior partner in Jordan's federation with Iraq, has claimed the federation still exists with him as head of Jordan as well as Iraq. King Faisal, Hussein's cousin, was killed during the Iraq coup, and the Iraqi rebel government has denounced the tie with Jordan.

There had been no Egyptian ambassador in Hussein's capital at Amman since April 1957 when the young king foiled a pro-Nasser coup and sent the envoy packing to Cairo. An Egyptian charge d'affaires remained, but he and all employees of the U. A. R. Embassy were ordered out.

Oil Airlift

The oil airlift to Jordan went ahead. A U.S. Embassy spokesman reported that seven American Globemaster planes had made 14 flights, each carrying 25 tons of oil.

Hussein also asked for U. S. troops — and said he expected to get them. But it seemed more likely that the United States at this stage would leave military aid to Hussein to the British.

The oil industry reportedly produced tense relations between the United States and Saudi Arabia, which refuse to permit the big tanker planes to fly over Saudi Arabian territory from Bahrain. The oil reportedly is coming from a U. S. Navy supply ship off Beirut with the planes flying across Israel.

Stemmed From Fear

The Saudi refusal to permit the oil planes to fly across Arabia apparently stemmed from a fear of Nasser.

The British sent reinforcements to the Persian Gulf island of Bah-rein, which lies off the coast of the tiny protectorate of Kuwait, one of Britain's chief sources of oil.

Shiek Abdullah Salah, who rules Kuwait with British protection, conftrted with Nasser in Damascus, the semiofficial Middle East News Agency reported. The agency said Abdullah was vacationing there.

Britain also bolstered its forces in Libya, on Egypt's western flank, sending in several hundred commandos after reporting a plot to overthrow pro-Western King Idriss.

Reported Calm

Iraq was reported calm. Associated Press correspondent Stan Carter, the first non-Arab newsman to reach Baghdad since the military coup, said most people in the Iraqi capital appeared enthusiastic about the new republic. Business was proceeding normally — except that a curfew had suspended night life — and people throughout the city smiled at soldiers spread throughout the ancient city.

The Iraqi army denied reports from a secret radio station, "Voice of Iraq," that forces loyal to the deposed regime were marching on the capital from the north. A spokesman said there had been no opposition to the new government since last Monday and "we will be glad to take you anywhere to see for yourself."

Summit

The sensational Soviet gambit, authorities here said, put the two Western powers in a bad spot before world public opinion, already alarmed over the possibilities of war in the Middle East.

Eisenhower at his Gettysburg farm, promptly conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone. Dulles discussed the Khrushchev proposal immediately afterward with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Lloyd and Dulles met again just before Lloyd took off for London after 3½ days of discussions here on British-American Middle East strategy.

Lloyd told reporters Dulles and he "are in substantial agreement" on how to handle the Khrushchev note. The White House a few hours later issued a terse statement which set the tone of the reply expected to be sent to Moscow late today or tonight.

"The United States is carefully studying the Soviet note and intends promptly, after appropriate consultations, to make a calm and constructive response," the statement said. "It will not undercut, and we hope, will enhance the work of the United Nations which has been so well begun. We think it vital that the work of the United Nations Security Council energetically go on."

But while U.S. officials are cold to Khrushchev's proposal for an emergency summit session on the Middle East, some, at least, believe that war fears have considerably increased pressure for a top-level session.

then it was a year ago during Jordan's last major crisis. The capital looks almost tranquil. But this is not expected to last.

U.S. support of Jordan now begins to look like a long, costly affair. But Britain apparently considers Jordan's fate a matter of the most extreme importance. Evidently Britain feels that if Jordan goes, oil-producing Kuwait will be the next target. And it is possible that U.S. policy makers feel that the turn of Saudi Arabia and is oil would not be far away.

AMMAN — Jordan breaks diplomatic relations with United Arab Republic following U.A.R. recognition of rebel regime in Iraq. U.S. gives King Hussein's government 12½ million dollars for economic aid, airlifts 350 tons of oil. Saudi Arabia, fearing Nasser's anger, reported refusing to let airlift tankers fly over with oil from Bahrain. British have 2,000 paratroopers in Jordan. Amman quiet.

CAIRO — Nasser returns to Cairo after three-week tour of Yugoslavia, Moscow and Damascus. Sees Kuwaiti Sheik Abdullah Salah in Damascus, heightening British apprehension of move in that oil-rich British protectorate. U.A.R. and new Iraqi republic sign mutual defense pact.

BAGHDAD — Iraqi capital continues calm in wake of coup, with population apparently friendly toward new regime U.S. Embassy says three Americans missing and presumed dead in revolt.

DAMASCUS — Iraqi finance minister says new regime wants to keep oil flowing to Western customers but warns West against making "mad move."

ANKARA — U.S. government charter four commercial airliners to fly Americans from Iraq if necessary. Clearance from new Baghdad government awaited.

UNITED NATIONS — West expected to support Japanese proposal that Security Council expand operations of U.N. observer group in Lebanon but some believe Soviet will veto to get General Assembly session.

EVER WATCHED A SMILE GROW?

To know what a miracle it is, you must first see the terror-stricken face of a child who has grown up overseas, knowing only violence and privation... a child like a certain orphaned four-year-old boy. His parents had lost their lives struggling for freedom. When the boy was brought to an orphanage operated by one of America's religious faiths, his eyes were filled with terror. For weeks he failed to respond to kindness—only stared with wide, wary eyes. But one day he forgot. He accepted a toy. Slowly his eyes softened—and a smile began to grow at the corners of his mouth till he was grinning happily.

You can make other smiles grow—by contributing to your religious faith's OVERSEAS AID PROGRAM.

Lewton-Girard Vows Heard In Lisbon Wedding Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Nancy Joan Lewton and Gerald Arthur Girard took place Saturday at 2 p.m. in Trinity United Presbyterian Church in Lisbon. The Rev. C. O. Armstrong officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Lewton of Pleasant Heights, Lisbon. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Esther Girard of 255 Front St., Leetonia.

White ribbon bows marked the pews on the aisle leading to the altar, which was enhanced by twin vases of white gladioli and Fuji mums.

John Snyder of Lisbon sang "Always," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer." Leonard Welsh of East Rochester was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a sheath of peau de soie fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. A full nylon net overskirt was fastened at the waist with a pearl buckle. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a fitted cap. She carried a white orchid showered with stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Karen Sue Lewton, was maid of honor. She wore a Kelly green sheath of Dior bow hat and short silk faille styled with a bateau neckline and cap sleeves. A green white nylon lace gloves completed her costume. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Iva Grim of East Palestine who served as bridesmaid, wore a Nile green sheath styled like the maid of honor's gown and her accessories and flowers were the same as Miss Lewton's.

Glendon Garlough of Poland was best man. Barry Weigle of East Palestine and Thomas Brooks of Lisbon ushered.

The bride's mother wore a white sheath trimmed with green embroidery and styled with a scoop neckline and cap sleeves. A white dress with orchid embroidery styled with a fitted bodice and full skirt was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both mothers used white accessories and complemented their dresses with corsages of pink roses.

The reception was held outdoors on the lawn at the bride's home. The refreshment table was covered with white linen and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and pink roses.

Mrs. Barry Weigle of East Palestine cut the four-tiered cake, which was topped with wedding bells. Mrs. Kenneth Kibler of Lisbon, a cousin of the bride, poured the punch.

Mrs. Charles Marrow of Leetonia registered the 150 guests from Lisbon, Leetonia, Salem East Palestine City Hospital School for Professional Nurses in 1957 and has been serving as head nurse of surgery at City Hospital. She has now accepted a position in the University Health Center at Bowling Green.

Mr. Girard was graduated from Leetonia High School, Class of 1954. In June, he was discharged after serving four years in the Navy. He is enrolled at Bowling Green University, majoring in industrial arts.

For her going away outfit, Mrs. Girard chose a blue nubby cotton chemise and white accessories. The corsage from her wedding bouquet complemented her attire.

The couple will reside at Bowling Green.

Couple Speak Vows In Local Church July 11

Miss Maxine Davidson and Flor Demont Jr. exchanged their marriage vows July 11 in the Assembly of God Church. The Rev. Roy Armstrong officiated at the single ring candlelight service.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Betty Farmer of Leetonia. Mr. Demont is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Florie Demont of Berlin Center.

Miss Sherrie Goodwin was soloist. She sang "O Promise Me," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. David Barth presided at the organ.

The bride's princess style waltz length gown of lace over satin was designed with a high neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls. Her veil of illusion was attached to a matching crown. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her mother. Her wedding bouquet contained a pale pink orchid and lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Miss Sarah Miller, was her only attendant. She was attired in blue gown of nylon net over taffeta and a matching crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Tony Delmont served as his brother's best man. Gene Paterson and Kenneth Barnes ushered.

The bride's mother wore a blue dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. White carnations and white accessories complemented the charcoal dress worn by the bridegroom's mother.

The bride attended Fairfield High School. Her husband is a graduate of Canfield High School.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Demont chose an ensemble of pastel plaid with white accessories.

The couple will reside with the bridegroom's parents at Berlin Center until their own home is completed.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration

Q—I'm a Korea veteran and my deadline for starting school under the GI Bill will come next summer, August 1959. Can I make application as late as next August for going to school, and then start class in September?

A—No. You must actually be in school, within three years from the date of your discharge. It is not enough to apply on time, with the intention of beginning after your deadline.

Q—The doctor tells me my present climate is bad for me and that I should move. Suppose I sell my GI house, and move. Can I have my GI home loan rights restored so I can buy a house in the new locality?

A—Yes. If your doctor says your move is necessary, your right to a GI home loan may be restored. However, the VA must first be relieved from liability on its guaranty of your old loan.

Q—In computing my yearly income for VA pension purposes, do I put down my take-home salary after deductions, or my gross salary before all deductions?

A—You must list your gross salary, rather than your net take-home salary after deductions.

Q—I'm intending to go to college this fall, under the Korean GI Bill. Will it be possible for me to get any part of my GI allowance pay in advance, before I start classes?

A—No. Under the law allowances are paid some time after the end of each month of training completed, and not before. After the end of the month, you and your school will have to sign a certificate stating you were in class all month. VA is allowed up to 20 days after receipt of certificate to send your check. In starting out be sure to take along enough money to tide you over the first 2 months.

Nancy Fromm Is Bride of Duane Barton

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fromm of Goshen Road announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy June, to Duane Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barton of Jennings Ave.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The marriage took place July 11 at the First Christian Church with the Rev. Harold Deitch officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barton attended the couple.

The bride wore a white ballerina length gown of white chiffon. The empire waist was embroidered with orchid flowers, and the fullness of the skirt was accented with underskirts of net and taffeta.

The matron of honor was attired in a ballerina length gown of baby blue styled with a bateau neckline and a full skirt.

The bride was graduated from Salem High School in June. Her husband, also a Salem High School graduate, is employed by the Layden-Hammill Litho Co.

A miscellaneous shower party honored the bride the night before her wedding. Hostesses were Miss Judy Bischel and Miss Marcia Smith in the Bichel home on E. 8th St.

After the honoree opened her gifts the guests enjoyed an informal evening visiting and reminiscing.

Refreshments were served at a table made attractive with an arrangement of pink roses and daisies and lighted tapers. Favors were miniature pink, blue and white umbrellas, carrying out the shower theme.

Detroit's Jim Bunning Hurls No Hitter Over Boston

Tiger Ace Faces Only 30 Bosox

Fans 12, Walks Two, Hits One In Victory

By The Associated Press
When Jim Bunning shelved the home run ball for the strikeout pitch, he was on the way back to his brilliant 1957 form.

Detroit's 20-game winner of a year ago pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Boston's sluggers at Fenway Park Sunday. Six weeks ago he couldn't get anybody out. In his first 11 games Bunning allowed 11 homers. Then he went on his strikeout spree.

He fanned 12 Red Sox June 11, 14 New York Yankees June 20, 10 Yanks July 16 and 12 Red Sox in his no-hitter. His total of 108 strikeouts puts him ahead of New York's Bob Turley for the American League lead.

Despite Bunning's magic, Detroit lost ground in the chase of the Yankees as did every other club. The Tigers won behind Bunning 3-0 but lost the second game to Boston 5-2 as Ike Delock ran his amazing won-loss record to 10-0 and 130 over a two-year span. Yogi Berra hit a two-run homer as the Yanks took two from Kansas City 3-1 and 8-0. As a result, New York leads the league by 11 games.

Roy Siever's ninth-inning homer in the second game aroused Washington fans to run around the bases with him, celebrating a 5-4 victory over Chicago. Dick Donovan's five-hit pitching gave the White Sox a 4-2 opening game decision.

Joe Ginsberg came through with a single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning for Baltimore's 3-2 edge over Cleveland. After Bob Boyd opened the 10th with a triple, Cleveland walked Gene Woodling and Bob Nieman intentionally but Ginsberg crossed up the strategy with his winning hit. Arnold Portocarrero won his fifth straight, finishing up with 7 1-3 hitless innings.

In the National, San Francisco ran its winning streak to six with a 7-3 romp over Pittsburgh, clinging to a half-game lead. Warren Spahn won his 12th for Milwaukee, 4-2 over the Chicago Cubs.

Los Angeles finally escaped from the cellar with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia on Johnny Podres' four-hitter. St. Louis dumped Cincinnati into last place as Sam Jones struck out 12 on the way to a 3-1 decision.

The big excitement was in Boston, where Bunning snapped a six-game Red Sox winning streak. He walked two and hit one. He faced only 30 batters.

Berra played right field for the Yanks in both games as he returned to the lineup after a layoff due to a hand injury. His homer scored Enos Slaughter, who had singled for his fourth hit. Jerry Lumpe's three-run homer made it easy for Ford, who gave up only five hits in winning his 15th.

Siever's big blow at Washington came off Early Wynn, who had just come out of the bullpen. Billy Goodman had four hits in the double-header to take over the batting lead at .337.

Barr's Goal Gives Salem 7-6 Victory

Jimmy Barr's goal in the last seven seconds gave the Salem Polo Club a 7-6 win over Cleveland in a match played Sunday on the loser's field.

The score was tied 4-4 at the half and 6-6 after the fifth chukker. Barr's goal in the waning seconds was the tie breaker. He, Lloyd Brunner and Jack Arnold each had two goals for Salem while Phil Thompson had one.

Salem plays at Darlington, Pa. Wednesday and at Youngstown on Sunday. Their next home match is Aug. 3 with Columbus.

Lincoln, Bayard, Columbiana, Dairy Queen Softball Winners

Lincoln Machine nipped the Friends Church 3-2, Bayard Grange hammered Hanoverton 19-5, Dairy Queen pounded Jack's Bar 8-1 and the Columbiana Merchants won over the Sportsmen's Club 6-2 in four softball contests played Saturday night at Kelley Field.

Close Games Mark Sunday Class AA Tilts

Herron's edged Old Dutch 3-2, Dairy Queen nipped Hanoverton 4-2 and Stepanic's Tavern blanked Bayard Grange 3-0 in a trio of Class AA softball games played on Sunday afternoon at Kelley Field.

Old Dutch's Bill Herman had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning against Herron's until Benny Roelen spoiled it with a single. The losers led 2-0 going into the bottom of the seventh when Herron's came up with three runs on three hits to win the decision.

Old Dutch broke a scoreless game in their sixth with two runs on a single by Whitely Moore, Charlie Blue's double and Cobb's single.

A single by Bill Crookston, an error and Ed Weber's single gave Herron's one run in the last inning. Jack Haldeman walked to load the bases then Jerry Jeffries bunted safely scoring Leo Klin to knot the score. With two outs Jeffries appeared trapped in a run down. Weber then dashed from third to beat the relay to the catcher for Herron's winning run.

Kline was the winner and fanned two while walking one. Herman struck out one and walked two.

Dairy Queen came through when it counted the most on the three hits they got off Hanoverton's Vogelhuter.

They scored twice in the third on Satch Altomare's single, Ed Duko's walk and Jim Barnes' double. They added a pair in the fifth on a double by Duko, a walk to Wayne Hahn, a sacrifice fly by Barnes and Dick Boughton's infield out.

The losers got only three hits off Altomare after the third inning. Vogelhuter walked six and fanned one while the winner walked one and struck out five.

Bayard had several chances to score against Stepanic's but the winner Glenn Mercer, proved too tough in the clutch in winning his 11th game in 15 decisions.

The victors scored once in the second on back-to-back doubles by Reed and Ed Bozich. They added a pair in the sixth on Ed Stepanic's single and a home run by Jim Beard.

Mercer walked two and whiffed two while the loser, Bill Ehrhart, walked none and fanned five.

Jimmy Grow, 135 1/2, Lewiston
Idaho, 7.

Don Fife was the winner and limited the losers to just a trio of safeties. George Bancroft was charged with the defeat.

Bill Ehrhart had an easy time of it in coping a decision over Hanoverton for Bayard. His mates gave him an 11-1 margin after two frames and he coasted to victory in a five-inning game.

Mike Makras took the loss. Let Haynam, Barber, Dutch Haynam and Andy Fabian all had three raps for the winners. Let Haynam had a triple, Barber a double and Dutch Haynam two triples among their hits.

Bayard collected 97 hits and scored seven runs in each of two frames.

Dairy Queen pounded out 12 hits including a home run by Jim Barnes in routing Jack's Bar behind the four hit pitching of Dave Ehrhart. Four Dairy Queen men each had a brace of safeties.

George Gould took the loss. The Sportsmen went down to defeat at the hands of the five-hit pitching of Columbiana's Gene Logue. John "Shine" Kozar took the loss.

Bob Adams had a triple and two singles for the winners while Don Ray collected a double and two singles.

Bartzen And Knode Win Court Titles

CHICAGO (AP) — Two master tennis strategists gave their opponents a few lessons Sunday in winning the National Clay Court singles championships.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, seeking an unprecedented third singles title to go with those she won in 1951 and 1955, administered the first lesson in the 48th annual tournament in suburban River Forest. Her pupil was Karol Fageros of Miami.

The 33-year-old Forest Hills, N.Y. veteran showed Miss Fageros how to overcome a hampering injury by varying one's game. Miss Fageros played her usual running defensive game, and the top-seeded star, nursing a pulled tendon in her playing arm, adopted similar tactics.

Mrs. Knode retreated to the baseline and offered soft, tantalizing lob shots to the golden panties girl, who either netted them or erred by setting up point-winning ground strokes. The younger player tired first, and Mrs. Knode won 6-3, 6-2.

Benard (Tut) Bartzen, left handed Dallas baseline specialist, gave the second lesson.

Bartzen, who won the singles title in 1954, picked up another by showing Sam Giammalva he should never change his style to that of his opponent when his opponent as been using the style successfully on clay courts for a couple decades.

the 23-year-old Houston slugger took the first set 6-3 by charging the net and overpowering Bartzen. Giammalva then began spending more and more time at the baseline. But he learned that few men in the nation can outvolley Bartzen on clay.

Perfectly intermixing drop shot and sideline placement, the second-seeded Texan won the next three sets 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

Giammalva teamed with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, top seeded singles player who was beaten by Sammy in the quarter finals, to whip Bartzen and Chicago's Grant Golden for the double title 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 36, 60.

MEETING PLANNED

Finsterwald Captures PGA Title With 276; Casper 2nd With 278

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, a thoughtful and articulate young golf champion, doesn't think he's a great golfer or even an unusually good one.

As a result, he doesn't let it get him down when he finishes second or even lower in a tournament. He's probably the most relaxed player on the pro circuit.

"It feels very strange to be first," he said after winning the 40th Professional Golfers Assn. championship with four super b rounds of 67-72-70-67—276 over the tightly trapped Llanerch Country Club course.

"I don't feel that I played less conservatively. I feel as if I played much the same as I've always done."

Although he had every reason to go all out when he and Sammy Snead hooked up in a final-round duel, he insisted it wasn't boldness or gambling that won.

Close observers thought otherwise. To them Finsterwald appeared to be hitting out boldly, going for the greens and trying to sink every putt while Snead turned cautious.

Finsterwald, a 28-year-old graduate of Ohio University who has been on the pro circuit since 1951, was the runner-up to Lionel Hebert in the match play PGA Championship last year.

He went into Sunday's fourth round two strokes behind Snead and one behind Bill Casper.

Casper took second with a 278 total—the only man besides Finsterwald to break par for 72 holes at Llanerch—while Snead placed third with an even par 280. Jackie Burke, the 1956 PGA champ, came in fourth with 281, then there was a big gap to the 285s posted by National Open champion Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert.

Unbeatens To Battle In Summer Cage Loop

First place in the Salem Summer Basketball League will be at stake when undefeated Chick Morgans meet the unbeaten Mergatroids Tuesday night at 7 at Centennial Park.

Each quintet has completed one-third of its schedule without a setback.

The contest will be one of three scheduled during the evening. At 8 p.m., Lease Drugs will meet Muck's All-Stars while at 9 p.m., Freddy Frats will battle the Carpeteers.

The Mergatroids possess such court talent as Jack Alexander, Matt Klein, Jerry Binder, Moe Meissner and Jerry Cosgrove. Morgans are composed primarily of cagers from Warren along with Jerry Myers. Mark Miller and Gordon Arndt of Salem.

Dairy Isle, Kresge's Win Class H Contests

Dairy Isle defeated Merchants ending 8-6 and Kresge's won over Endres-Gross 4-2 in two Class H games played Saturday at Memorial Park.

Loschinsky had two hits for Dairy Isle while Maxm collected a pair for the Merchants.

R. Chamberlain had two hits for Endres - Gross while Kresge's bot but a pair of safeties. They were by Elliott and Fowler.

The defending champion, Lionel Hebert, wound up 15 strokes behind at 291.

The victory added $5,500 to Dow's bulging bankroll. He has won more than $35,000 in each of the past two years, with only one tournament victory in each season. So far this year he has collected about $20,000.

IN MEMORIAM
IN LOVING MEMORY of my Mother, Alice K. Votaw, who passed away one year ago today.

I cannot say, and will not say, She is dead! She is just away! With a cheery smile, And a wave of her hand, She has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how fair it must be, since she lingers there. And we, who the wildest yearn For the old-time step and the glad return.

Think of her smiling on As dear in the love of There as the love of here. Mild and gentle as she was brave, When the sweetest love of her life she gave To simple things.

Where the violets grew Pure as the eyes they were likened to, The touches of her hands have strayed As reverently as her lips have prayed. Think of her still as the same I say: She is not dead, she is just away. Hazel M. Weaver and Family

Observe National Farm Safety Week Every Week Of The Year!

How About Your Wiring?

Old fashioned or inadequate electric wiring can be an element of inconvenience and danger. Especially on the farm! The wiring should be sufficient to carry the ever increasing load of electrical appliances and equipment now in use on so many farms.

Feel Free To Call Us About Your Wiring
We Will Be Glad To Advise You.

JULIAN Electric Service
111-115 JENNINGS AVE.

In this day of Mechanized Farming, Farm Safety is of the utmost importance; It pays to be alert and have everything in order. See that tractors, trucks, and other farm machinery and equipment are kept in repair. Watch electric especially in the outbuildings. Be careful about building bonfires. Fire on a farm is a serious matter! Do you carry Liability Insurance, so that if someone is injured on your property you would be protected? Are your buildings properly insured? Do you have accident and hospitalization insurance? The modern farm is like a factory and safety first is given great importance in manufacturing plants. Better Be Safe Than Sorry!

Farm Work Mishaps
Injures 321,600 Each Year

Surveys show that many of these accidents on farmlands and about farm buildings took the lives of young people who were not properly safeguarded by their parents and had not acquired safety instructions.

Foresight now will at least take the sting of financial burden away from these accidents that seem bound to happen!

Consumer Index

By EWAN CLAGUE

Victor Riesel is in Europe. Today his guest columnist is Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics.

WASHINGTON For nearly 40 years the Consumer Price Index has been a key statistic in the American economy. It was created during World War I in order to help solve wage disputes.

In World War II it achieved prominence as a guide to wage stabilization.

During the postwar inflation period, 1946-48, it became one of the factors in wage escalator contracts, which are today more widespread than ever before.

The Index is also being worked into all money payments, rental contracts, pension payments and even bond issues.

Yet many of the users of the Index — employers, workers, and the general public — have little knowledge concerning what the index is, how it is prepared or how it should be used.

One of the most common misunderstandings is the relationship of the Index to the cost of living.

There are many factors which can influence a family's cost of living. A new baby in the family; a move to a new community; the decision to buy a home instead of renting — all these can raise family living costs. So can a rise in consumer prices.

But among all these the only factor which the Index measures is the rise (or fall) of prices.

THE INDEX measures only the effect of price changes upon the cost of living.

The Index is based upon a fixed basket of consumer goods and services bought by the average wage or salary earning family. This information comes from the families themselves. The last survey of family expenditures was made in 1950-51.

These studies not only give us lists of the goods and services which the families buy but they also provide information on the importance (or weight) of each item in the family's budget. To get the Index we simply price this fixed market basket from one month to the next.

Does this mean that the market basket never changes? Not at all. Some items may become obsolete, so we find substitutes. Sales of TV sets may increase and radios decline; we raise the weight of one and reduce the other.

Over a period of 10 years, family buying patterns usually change so much that a new market basket is needed. That requires a basic revision of the Index.

Another confusion in people's minds is the difference between necessities and luxuries. This idea grows out of the notion of a minimum standard of living budget.

The Index is not based upon that; it represents the average expenditures of the average income family. Is an automobile a necessity? Or a TV?

THE BUREAU does not make that decision. The automobile is represented in the Index to the extent that the average working family owns one. So do with home ownership, household appliances, furniture, etc.

Many questions are raised about our pricing methods — do we get the actual prices that families pay? We do everything we can, within our resources, to get actual prices.

Some, like streetcar fares or public utility rates, we can collect by mail. For many years, we collected rents by mail, after a preliminary visit to the family.

However, a few years ago we found it necessary to ask for funds, which Congress provided, to enable us to visit families each time that we collected the rent information.

For food prices we use a local resident, usually a housewife, who works for us a few days during the middle week of the month. She goes into the grocery store and prices each one of the 80-odd foods represented in the Index.

FOR APPLIANCES, furniture, apparel and other such items, we find it necessary to use full-time agents with more training and experience. We visit automobile dealers, from whom we get reports on both the cash reductions from list prices and over-allowances on trade-ins.

People often say, "I shop around and can do much better on prices than the Index." Of course they can.

A prudent housewife can do much better than the average, which is what the Index represents. I saw recently a sample family meal which costs less this year than it did last year. But that meal required careful choosing.

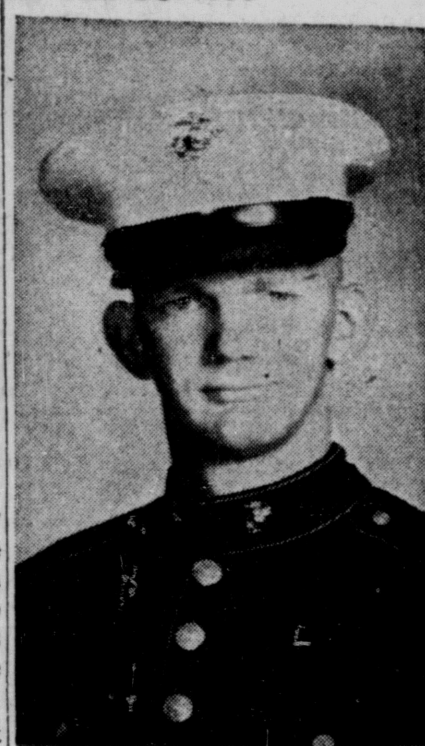

It doesn't alter the fact that food prices generally are considerably higher this year. The Index shows the average picture.

Are there weaknesses and limitations in the index? Yes, of course. Fair Trade list prices are breaking down everywhere. On some items we ought to be obtaining more quotations and collecting more frequently. We should add to our list of stores.

The Index is so important that its accuracy should be improved.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Operation to Diagnose Adhesions

A.L. writes that he has never had an operation, but is told that he has a lot of adhesions which are causing pain in the stomach. He wants to know something of the cause and what can be done.

Before discussing adhesions in general, I might say that while they may be responsible for symptoms in the abdominal cavity and digestive organs, there are a lot of other disorders of the stomach, gall bladder or elsewhere in the digestive tract which are probably much more common causes of distress than adhesions.

CONSEQUENTLY, a number of other possible reasons for the "at-mach" pains should be eliminated before the fault is laid at the door of adhesions.

Adhesions are made up of tissue similar to that of ordinary scars on the skin. When observed under the microscope, adhesions appear as slightly elastic fibers. Technically this is called fibrous tissue. The body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming such tissue. The response is not related to the particular nature of the damage but is merely one of nature's attempts to heal injury.

Hence there may be adhesions present inside the abdominal cavity from minor inflammation (of the appendix, for example) as well as following surgery.

Once formed, adhesions may or may not produce difficulty. The fibrous tissue has a tendency to contract. Thus, if adhesions have formed around a loop of the intestines they may draw tighter and tighter, preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce symptoms and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangled intestine.

WHAT TO DO for adhesions depends on where the adhesions are located, what normal structures of the body they surround and what this contraction is doing to the organs involved. But adhesions themselves cannot be seen by X-rays, so that diagnosis is often difficult.

Berlin Center

Miss Doris Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Dunlap of Newton Falls, has chosen July 26 a date for her forthcoming wedding to Richard VanKirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. VanKirk of Berlin Center.

Open church wedding will be observed at 7 p.m. at the Mt. Mounah Lutheran Church at Berlin Center.

Rev. John E. Berger will officiate. A reception will follow in the church social room.

American newspaperman Samuel Bowles, who died in 1878, used the term "hell on wheels" to describe the camps built every few miles on the route of railroad tracks expanding westward in the United States.

for vague abdominal distress is likely to be difficult. Sometimes it can be done only at operation when the region under suspicion comes under the scrutiny of the surgeon. Adhesions do not lead to cancer, as some have asked me, but neither can they be cured by any medicines taken by mouth or given by injection.

If A.L.'s symptoms are severe enough, and nothing else responsible can be found, it may be necessary to open the abdominal cavity to see if the adhesions can be cut and thereby bring relief.
